

ATTACK

MADE THIS MORNING ON SAFE AT BASCOM, O.

ROBBERS FRIGHTENED OUT OF THE TOWN.

NOISE AROUSED THE CITIZENS.

Force of Explosion Hurled Safe Door Clear Across Street—Men Left Empty Handed.

Fostoria, O., Nov. 1.—A successful, though unrewarded attack was made on the safe of the Matthews Boat company at Bascom, just east of here at 2 o'clock this morning. The door of the safe, containing money and papers of the company, was blown off and hurled with terrific force, across the street. The explosion aroused the citizens and the safe blowers were frightened away without securing any booty.

JUDGE TAFT

Is Now Said to Be a Very Sick Man—He Has Been in a Hospital for the Past Month.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Judge Taft, of Ohio, president of the civil government in the Philippines is a very sick man and his condition creates alarm.

WILLIAM H. TAFT.

He has been in a hospital for a month with bowel trouble and underwent an operation. He will probably be given a long leave of absence as soon as he is able to travel.

PROPOSES TO TRY IT.

New York, Nov. 1.—Louis Lang, a Brooklyn butcher, declares his intention of going over Niagara Falls in a barrel. He says he will perform the feat on December 15. Lang is 39 years old, five feet eight inches in height and weighs 175 pounds. He has a wife and four children.

CARNEGIE HONORED.

Glasgow, Nov. 1.—Andrew Carnegie was duly nominated rector of St. Andrew's university today. His nomination was unopposed.

The Oldest Twins in Ohio.

McConnelsville, O., Nov. 1.—Morgan county possesses the oldest twins in Ohio, and probably in the United States. They are B. H. Combs, of Woodgrove, and N. A. Combs, of Bristol.

The twins are sons of Robert and Nancy Combs, early pioneers of this county, and were born in London county, Virginia, January 12, 1815. There were ten children in the family. They came to Ohio in 1825, and entered the quarter section of land in Manchester township, on which B. H. Combs now resides. The twins were named Burr Harrison and Nimrod Ashley. Being ten years of age at the time they distinctly remember their long drive from Virginia through the unbroken wilderness to Ohio. The farm entered by the father was all woods. There was not even a bridge path upon it, and the greater part of the surrounding land was government land without road, clearing or human habitation.

There were seven sons, and, contrary to the usual custom of the early pioneers, they did all the clearing and

GREATEST

Fire in History of Uniontown, Pa., Occurred This Morning—Loss Quarter of Million.

Uniontown, Pa., Nov. 1.—The greatest fire in the history of this city occurred this morning at 10 o'clock but the flames are now under control. The origin is from some, as yet, unknown cause in the Friedman livery stable on Pittsburg street. Two blocks, containing ten buildings with their contents were destroyed. The damage is estimated at not less than $250,000 and one life is supposed to have been lost.

In all twenty buildings have been destroyed by the fire. The entire square from Pittsburg street to Arch is left without one building except the brick walls of the News-Standard office.

IDENTIFIED

As Daughter of William Arnold, of Lima, O., Was Girl Arrested at Marion.

Marion, Ind., Nov. 1.—It has developed that the girl dressed as a man, who was arrested at Matthews Monday and charged with living unlawfully with John McMahan, both of whom were given heavy jail sentences here yesterday, is the 19-year-old daughter of William Arnold of Lima, O. When arrested the girl gave the name of Vandvke and in court she swore her name was Pauline Verbeck, of Lima, O., age 22. She disappeared from home several weeks ago.

SUPREME COURT

Today Declared the Toledo Teachers' Pension Law Unconstitutional—It Was Special Legislation.

Columbus, O., Nov. 1.—The supreme court today declared the Toledo teachers pension law to be unconstitutional. Members of the bench when asked for an expression said they could not understand how any similar law in any other city could stand should they be attacked in the courts. The decision is on the ground that the public school teachers pension laws of Cincinnati, Cleveland and other cities will fall if they should be brought into court.

The same objections will apply to the police and firemen pension laws enacted for the various cities. In each case these laws have been made to apply, one by one, to a single city only.

REMANDED TODAY.

London, Nov. 1.—Theodore and Laura Jackson (Madame DissDeBarr) alias Horos, who are held on a charge of obtaining money on false pretenses, for immorality, were again formally remanded today.

FLEET

IS PROCEEDING TO DEMAND FRENCH RIGHTS.

THE SULTAN HAS DECIDED TO DEFY FRANCE.

MAY INVOLVE ALL OF EUROPE.

Story Announced Last Night That the Fleet Had Been Recalled Is Today Denied.

Paris, Nov. 1.—It is not true that the French fleet has been recalled from the advance on Turkey. The fleet is proceeding to demand French rights. Further the Sultan has decided to defy France and has ordered defence of Salonica, Symesna and Mitylene. Mines have been placed in the Dardanelles, and preparatory orders have been issued for mobilization of an army corps. A Constantinople telegram today further states that anti-foreign fanaticism prevails throughout the city.

May Involve All Europe.

Berlin, Nov. 1.—While the kaiser has refused the Sultan's plea to open support Abdul Hamid in the Franco-Turkish dispute, further developments are liable to involve Germany in the difficulty. The fear is expressed in diplomatic circles here that Russia is supporting France and intends to profit jointly in the event of war with Turkey, taking advantage of the fact that England is tied in South Africa and is thus unable to intervene. The Turkish embroilment therefore, may involve all Europe.

This Is Denied Today.

Paris, Nov. 1.—The following dispatch was received from Toulon: "The complete Mediterranean squadron returned to Toulon and anchored in the roadstead." This would include Admiral Caillaud's division, whose departure has thus either been countermanded or postponed. It would imply that the government has received news from Constantinople which has not yet been divulged, and which has induced a change of plan. It was reported that Admiral Caillaud had been ordered to cruise within reach of a dispatch boat for possible further instructions, and it is significant that the torpedo boat destroyer Halibardo left Toulon at full speed to rejoin the squadron.

Late dispatches confirm the report of the return of the entire squadron, and adds that Admiral Caillaud's division is still held in readiness to sail at a moment's notice. Editorially The Figaro and other papers express surprise at this perplexing and unexplained move after the dispatch of Admiral Caillaud to the Levant had been officially announced. The Mar-seilles correspondent of The Matin says the return was due to the fact that the squadron was supplied with only two days' rations.

Predicts No Trouble.

Washington, Nov. 1.—M. Margerie, the charge d'affaires of the French embassy here, had a short interview with Secretary Hay, after which the secretary left at once for the White House. Mr. Margerie may be considered an expert in matters pertaining to the Levant, having spent several years at Constantinople recently as an attaché of the French embassy. He feels confident that there is not the slightest danger of a dissolution of the concordat owing to the action of the French government in sending warships to make a naval demonstration in Turkish waters and to seize a customs port. The other nations parties to the concordat understand the situation perfectly, and, in fact, most of them have grievances and claims themselves like French complaints.

Lowther Died Today.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 1.—Dr. F. P. Lowther, one of those wounded in the street duel with Friend Cox, at New Martinsville, Tuesday night, died at 9:15 this morning and Mrs. Lowther, the doctor's wife, wounded in the chest by Cox, is growing worse, and a third life may be sacrificed to the quarrel.

The hand of fate is usually clenched.

CONFESSION

Of Four Young Men Who Were Arrested at Cleveland—Young Girl Is Recovering.

Cleveland, Nov. 1.—Early this morning the police arrested four young fellows on the charge of criminally assaulting Mary Fletcher of 116 Milford street, the 17-year-old girl, who was assaulted in a vacant lot on Hurdy street Wednesday night. The men are John T. Jones, Russell Hartman, Frank Nealon, and Fred Warnke. Fred Pollock who was arrested Thursday on the same charge, as telegraphed to the Advocate yesterday, was in the "sweat box" this morning. Four of the fellows have made a confession admitting the awful crime. The girl is now recovering.

Gathering Oranges on Shore.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 1.—Oystermen down the Delaware bay have temporarily abandoned their usual occupation and devoted their time to gathering in crates of oranges and other tropical fruits with which the bay shore is being littered.

The ship Liba B. Wharton collided with a sunken barge last Thursday and was broken up. Her cargo of fruits has gone adrift. The proprietor of a hotel at Slaughter Beach gathered fifty bushels of oranges.

BUBONIC PLAGUE.

Glasgow, Nov. 1.—Another case of bubonic plague has been discovered here.

LOCKJAW

SERUM BEING DISTRIBUTED IN ST. LOUIS

To Save Those Who Took Infected Anti-Toxine—Five Children Are Not Expected to Live.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 1.—The Board of Health decided unanimously last night that the city of St. Louis shall manufacture no more diphtheria anti-toxine. This action was due to the deaths of children due to lockjaw caused by the administration of the city's anti-toxine for diphtheria and by the information that five other children who have taken the anti-toxine are expected to die of lockjaw within a few days.

The Board of Health after an all-day session, issued an announcement that tetanus anti-toxine will be distributed free to all applicants.

The board's announcement carries with it an expression of an earnest hope that the tetanus anti-toxine shall be administered in all cases where the diphtheria anti-toxine has been used. By this method the board hopes to prevent any more deaths from lockjaw, the numerous cases of which have alarmed the entire city. At the office of the coroner an investigation has been commenced, under the direction of three of the most experienced bacteriologists in the city, to determine the cause of the deaths of the four children who are supposed to have succumbed to tetanus poisoning. The spinal column of each child will be opened and the serum removed and subjected to chemical analysis. The serum will also be used on guinea pigs.

Dr. Ravold, who prepared the diphtheria anti-toxine from serum removed from a horse kept by the city for that purpose, and which was shot on October 1 because he showed symptoms of lockjaw, invites investigation, and declares it is of the utmost importance to science to discover if it is possible for tetanus bacilli to lie concealed in the system of a horse or a man. He says the anti-toxine was prepared with all caution and discretion, and he accepts full responsibility therefor. He says:

"If the investigation discloses that the city's serum horse was infected with tetanus bacilli at the time the last serum was taken from him—almost two months before he showed symptoms of lockjaw and was shot—then the medical world must find some way to discover the presence of tetanus bacilli in a horse's system, or else one of the greatest medical discoveries of modern times, the serum treatment for diphtheria, will have become dangerous, if not absolutely useless."

COURT

ADJOURNED UNTIL MONDAY MORNING

DEVELOPMENTS OF THE INQUIRY TODAY.

CHADWICK DISPUTES SCHLEY

Several Witnesses Introduced to Testify in Rebuttal of Evidence for the Admiral.

Washington, Nov. 1.—In the naval court of inquiry this morning Captain Lemly stated that he had received a letter from Lieut. C. H. Harlow, in which he said he could find nothing in his private diary regarding the message Schley says he sent to Sampson July 2, warning the latter that the Spanish were exhibiting signs of unusual activity in the harbor.

Lemly also stated that another search had been made at the navy department for the signal record book of the Massachusetts, but it had resulted unsuccessfully. He said that the search would be continued. It is of importance in that it will show the signals made by Schley May 31.

With regard to the arguments Captain Lemly said he had arranged with Mr. Rayner, subject to the approval of the court, that the order of speaking should be: Hanna, Parker, Rayner, Lemly.

Admiral Dewey said that would be satisfactory.

"I suppose," said Lemly, "it will be expected that the arguments be limited to the evidence and the scope of the precept as defined by the court."

"I don't know exactly what you mean," broke in Rayner. "I don't want to be restricted in my argument. Of course, I would refer to nothing not in the record but I think one of our rights is withheld if we are not permitted to argue as we would before any other tribunal. I propose to refer only to what is in the record and with due dignity and consideration to all concerned, but if I think a witness has told an untruth, or that his memory is at fault, I want to say so."

Dewey—"That is right."

Parker—"I desire to refer in my argument to court-martials of the past."

Dewey—"We will have no trouble I am sure. We will cross the bridge when we get to it."

Sylvester Scovel called in rebuttal, said he was located now at Havana, occupied, as an engineer. During the war he was a correspondent on the Summers N. Smith, a press boat, which met the St. Paul close in shore at Santiago, May 28, in the afternoon.

"Did you have conversation with Captain Sigsbee?" asked Lemly.

"Yes, the St. Paul chased and caught us. We were 100 feet apart perhaps. I used the megaphone on the Smith."

"We asked where Schley was The St. Paul answered in the Yucatan passage. Then we asked where Cervera was. Captain Sigsbee hesitated and talked with some one on the bridge. Then he said he had caught a collier sneaking in the harbor. He was not sure Cervera was there. Sigsbee talked with others afterwards. He did not tell us the Spanish were not there."

"Did you communicate with the insurgents in Cuba?"

"Yes, on both the north and south coasts. I landed on the latter three times. The first was June 3, about 3 1/2 miles west of Santiago."

Rayner objected to any testimony later than June 1, in which the court sustained him.

Lemly desisted and Rayner took the witness stand.

"Who else megaphoned the St. Paul?"

"I don't know. It was not necessary to use the megaphone as we came nearer. Mr. Pepper probably asked some questions on his own account. I talked with Mr. Bookwalter and Mr. Powellson, who came down where I could speak with them."

"Mr. Hare said you intended to go to Jamaica to coal."

"He is mistaken. We had plenty of coal."

IN SECTIONS

Hereafter the Supreme Court of Ohio Will Set at Columbus—First In Two Years.

Columbus, O., Nov. 1.—The supreme court finished on Wednesday the first oral argument assignment made after the summer adjournment. Deputy Clerk Dana is now at work upon the next one. It will provide for the working of the court in two sections hereafter. It will be the first time the court has worked in sections for two years. It was the intention of the new law passed seven years ago that it should work in sections all the time but the court having only one chamber soon found it impracticable and abandoned it. It was found, too, that lawyers having cases to submit to the supreme court were not inclined to submit them to a sectional court. They always think they have some new and important question to present. If they did not they would not bring the cases up. It is likely that if the court consults the wishes of the attorneys practicing before it in this matter it will not have many cases to be heard in sectional courts.

FINDLAY'S REGISTRATION LESS THAN NEWARK'S.

Findlay, O., Nov. 1.—Findlay's registration this fall was the heaviest in the history of the city. The registrars' revised lists show a total number of names registered to be 5,023, which is 200 more than ever before. It is expected that Monday's registration will add at least 100 more to the list. This indicates a population of 25,000, and may result in an independent census being ordered by the council. The federal census giving the population at 18,000 is not satisfactory to the citizens.

Newark's registration is 5,817.

WHILE DYING

He Married in Order That the Woman He Loved Might Get His Property.

Akron, O., Nov. 1.—Knowing that his death would probably come before morning, John Shepard was married last night to Mrs. Mary Snyder. Physicians told him during the afternoon that he had but a few hours to live and he at once sent for a marriage license and a preacher. Mrs. Snyder was already with him. Shepard and Mrs. Snyder were to have been married six months ago, but Snyder, who is a street railway man, was hurt in a wreck. He is 67 years old and his bride 27. She was divorced from her first husband a year ago. Snyder wanted her to have his property hence the marriage. He was unable to sit up and could barely whisper to the preacher's question "I will."

Four Firemen Hurt.

Youngstown, O., Nov. 1.—Stam-bach's brick stable was burned this morning, burning four firemen injured. Two were badly injured. The condition of Assistant Chief Reilly and Firemen Cowden and McDonough is serious.

ACCIDENT

Which Resulted in One Death and Two Probably Fatal Injuries Today at Lockport.

Lockport, N. Y., Nov. 1.—A terrible accident happened in this city this morning whereby one man lost his life and two others were seriously if not fatally injured. Daniel Owens, a carpenter, was engaged in remodeling the four-story building Nos. 8, 10 and 12, Main street, when a section of the roof fell in, carrying with it the third story. Owens was caught between the roof and the falling story and was crushed to death. When found the body was so wedged into the derrick that it was necessary to saw it out to release it. The other two men who were engaged at work in the story below were struck and badly injured.

RECEIVED WITH POMP.

Portsmouth, Nov. 1.—The duke and duchess of Cornwall arrived this morning and were received with great pomp and ceremony by King Edward and the channel squadron.

LIVES

YET MRS. BUCK'S NECK WAS BROKEN

THROWN FROM A BUGGY UPON HER HEAD.

CASE SURPRISES THE DOCTORS.

With a Cervical Vertebra Fractured No Symptoms of Usual Paralysis Have Developed.

McKeesport, Pa., Nov. 1.—The case of Mrs. Richard Buck, the woman with a broken neck, is attracting the attention of the medical world to the McKeesport hospital. Mrs. Buck sustained a broken neck in a runaway accident the evening of Oct. 16. Last Wednesday she had so far recovered as to be able to sit up in bed, and within a few more weeks it is thought will be discharged from the hospital permanently cured.

Mrs. Buck is the wife of Richard Buck, a wealthy liquor dealer. On October 16 she went driving. Mrs. Buck was thrown out and alighted on the top of her head. Mrs. Buck struggled to her feet and walked a number of steps before she was caught by some persons running to the assistance of the women, when she became unconscious.

By the time the victims had reached the hospital Mrs. Buck had recovered consciousness. She complained of a slight pain in her neck, and said it felt numb. She was unable to hold up her head. Dr. Theodore Nason, an expert surgeon, discovered that the third cervical vertebra was badly fractured, and that the woman's neck was broken. In spite of this there was no pressure on the spinal cord, and there was no indication of paralysis. This fact had thrown the physicians off their guard when the woman was first admitted, and it was over an hour after the accident occurred when the really serious nature of the case was determined.

Dr. Nason gave it as his opinion that the woman could not live many hours. In spite of this the next day found her decidedly improved, although suffering great pain. A consultation was called of all the leading physicians. She was carefully strapped to her bed in such a manner as to forbid the slightest movement. The fracture of the vertebra was reduced as much as possible, and a nature was left to do the rest.

Although the physicians believed the case to be hopeless from the first, Mrs. Buck refused to consider it so. She knew the serious nature of her injury, but when informed that there might be a chance for her recovery she decided she would take that chance. Wednesday she sat up in bed for the first time, and the physicians think she will be sufficiently improved to leave the hospital within another month.

The physicians regard the case as one of the most remarkable in surgical experience.

HOMESICK

Boy Was Given Money to Return Home by the Girl With Whom He Had Elop.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 1.—An officer went to East St. Louis yesterday afternoon to get Jennie Sims, aged 17, who took $150 of her mother's money and eloped with fourteen-year-old Grover Chatham last Monday. He has arrived home. He said he became homesick, and Jennie gave him money with which to come home.

The East St. Louis police were wired, and soon reported that the girl, with $30 left of the $150, was under arrest. Chatham says they stopped at the Grand Hotel in East St. Louis where no questions were asked of them. He claims that he did not know where the girl got the money.

Several years ago the girl was sent to the reformatory in Indianapolis for larceny.

THE CONTRAST

Between the Two Candidates and the Parties They Represent.

In his opening speech Governor Nash says: "I shall say nothing about state affairs."

Senator M. A. Hanna said: "This is no time to bring into this contest any of these side issues of state affairs, such as taxation," etc.

Contrast these flippant refusals to discuss the vital questions which affect all people, with the clear and ringing words of Colonel James Kilbourne, the Democratic candidate for governor, at Bucyrus.

"On the subject of taxation the position of the Democracy is clear and unmistakable. It does not content itself with the general declaration that the burdens of taxation should be equally distributed, but, secure in the justice of its demands and fearless of the power and influence of corporate wealth, it specifically names those who are conspicuous in their avoidance of the public burdens, and insists that they shall be assessed in the same proportion to their salable value as our farm and city real estate."

"Is there any honest and fair-minded man, to whatever party he may belong, who can dispute the justice of this demand? The platform also provides for sworn public reports and audits which shall make plain to the people the true value of the privileges held by public corporations. Is not this the people's due?"

"The pernicious special legislation enacted by the five Republican legislatures since 1892, insidious and destructive in their character, has loaded communities with additional and unnecessary heavy burdens, and passed the rights of the public over to corporations endowed with privileges no private citizen is entitled to exercise."

"The Democratic party, in its platform, boldly attacks these wrongs and demand their correction not by the destruction or injury of the rights of any man or corporation, but by restoring and maintaining the rights of all, not by unequally distributing the burdens of taxation, but by equalizing them.

"It has but one purpose in view—to so amend and enforce existing laws that every dollar of property value shall bear its proportionate share of the burden, without regard to its form or character, but according to its value alone. It has no purpose or desire to injure the wealthy. It has no intention to permit the oppression of those who are not wealthy. It proposes only exact justice to all."

Here is an issue in which every farmer, laborer, merchant and taxpayer is interested. You are able to tell who is your friend, and who is the friend of the trust and the tax-dodger. It is your absolute duty to go to the polls next Tuesday and cast your vote in your own behalf. You will fail in a high duty if you fail to do so.

Laboring men should stand by a friend. It is the only way they can exalt themselves. Too long have they been upholding their enemies. Now they have a chance to strike a blow for themselves and at the same time gain a point against their great enemy—the trusts. The way to do it is to vote for their friend, Col. James Kilbourne, for governor, next Tuesday.

Vote for Col. James Kilbourne. He is a man who has shown himself to be the laboring man's genuine friend. His personal popularity far exceeds that of his opponent. Everybody knows this to be true. Even Republican politicians are forced to admit it.

STONE RANSOM.

Sultan Promises to Make It Good.

Sofia, Nov. 1.—Miss Stone's release is not likely to be effected within a week. Mr. Dickinson, in the name of the United States government, has given an assurance that neither the receivers of the ransom nor Miss Stone's guides will be prosecuted. He asserts that Turkey agreed a fortnight ago to reimburse the ransom.

Both Dead.
Constantinople, Nov. 1.—It is again rumored that Madame Tsilka, the companion of Miss Stone, and her child (born since her capture by the brigands), are dead.

Colony of Boers.

Cheyenne, Nov. 1.—A number of Hague bankers and other wealthy men of Holland are making arrangements to establish here a colony of Boers and Holland Dutch in Wyoming. A tract of 300,000 acres has been secured in the valley of the Green river, in Sweetwater county, southern Wyoming. Surveys have been made for a giant canal and irrigation system, and construction is to be commenced at once. The prospective settlers are now being brought over.

End of a Spree.

Buffalo, Nov. 1.—Thomas J. Harvey attempted to shoot William J. McLaughlin, with whom he boarded, in front of the Amherst hotel. The bullet went wide of the mark and lodged in the hand of an Indian, Charles Brave, who stood near by. Harvey then ran to the rear of the hotel and shot himself in the head, inflicting a wound which caused his death. Harvey had been drinking heavily.

Dr. Burnett Indicted.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—The grand jury voted an indictment against Dr. Orville Burnett, charging him with murder as an accessory before the fact. Dr. Burnett was with Mrs. Charlotte Nichol when the latter committed suicide at a hotel recently, alone fulfilling an agreement which Burnett says they made to die together rather than be separated.

Plague at Glasgow.

Glasgow, Nov. 1.—The bubonic plague has reappeared here during the week. Four suspected cases were removed from the Central Station hotel, belonging to the Caledonian railway, and one died. The hotels have been closed and all guests have been warned to leave.

Work of Train Wreckers.

Rock Springs, Wyo., Nov. 1.—The authorities are investigating the cause of the wreck on the Union Pacific at this place, and it is said arrests will be made soon. It is alleged that the switch had been thrown for the siding and locked, and the switch lights extinguished.

Oil Inspectors Indicted.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Robert E. Burke, former city oil inspector, and Max Prager, Burke's former assistant, were named in indictments voted by the grand jury. They are charged with making false reports to the city comptroller of fees collected.

SPRINGS IN THE SEA

FRESH WATER STREAMS THAT BURST FROM THE OCEAN'S BED.

The Origin of the Underground Rivers That Have an Outlet Under the Persian Gulf Has Never Been Satisfactorily Explained.

Along the shallow bottom of the ocean, not very far from the land, a number of openings have been discovered in various parts of the world through which water as pure and fresh as that of any bubbling spring mingles with the salt water of the sea. Another remarkable class of fresh water springs is those that sink out of sight or perhaps never come to the surface, but follow hidden channels under the land and under the sea until they finally come to the open air on an island. Both of these types of underground rivers are perhaps most remarkably illustrated near and on Bahrain island, in the Persian gulf, a place that is also noted as one of the chief sources of pearls.

Bahrain island, the largest of the group of islands bearing that name, is about twenty miles off the coast of Arabia in the Persian gulf. As the island has almost no rainfall it is a dead level of sandy desert relieved only by palm groves and patches of vegetation where water springs to the surface from the mysterious underground channels. In many places the water does not reach the surface, but is found by sinking wells, the water being raised to the surface by donkeys and bullocks and poured into the channels from which the date palms and other crops are irrigated. These springs cannot possibly be derived from the island, and it is no more likely that they come from the sandy wastes of neighboring Arabia. The Arabian shore as far as can be seen is low and devoid of water except at El-Katif where similar springs are found.

Arabs say that these streams come straight from the Euphrates river through an underground channel by which the great river, in part, flows beneath the Persian gulf. Geologists, however, have dismissed this theory. Though the origin of the springs has not yet been satisfactorily explained, the most favored theory is that they come from the well watered slopes of the Persian mountains far to the north. If this theory is correct, it means that the rainfall sinks into the earth's crust until it reaches impermeable rock strata along which it is carried for a great distance to the south out under the sea until the rock, sloping upward, again brings the water near the surface on Bahrain island. Some of the wells that are thus supplied are enormous, and one of them, the Adari, serves for the irrigation of many miles of date palms through a canal of ancient construction. The Adari well is one of the great sights of Bahrain, being a deep basin of water 22 by 40 yards in size. The fact that it comes from a far higher source is shown by the force with which it enters the well. Divers, driven back by the strong current, are unable to reach the bottom.

There being no wells within miles of some of the coast towns of Bahrain, they obtain water from springs that issue from the bottom of the gulf not far from the shore. These springs of course have the same origin as the wells. Divers, with goatskins under their arms, dive through the salt water and fill the skins with the cold, fresh liquid at the bottom. The water obtained in this way usually contains a slight admixture of salt water, so that the mixture is just a little brackish. At some of these openings at the sea bottom the head of water entering the sea is so strong that when hollow bamboos are pushed down into it the water rises through the tubes, delivering the fresh water directly into vessels that are held by men and women who are sitting in the boats that brought them from the land. The force of some of the streams as they come from the earth is so considerable that it pushes back the salt water, and the spring is not mixed with the sea water for quite a space around the place of entrance.

It has been practically determined within the past few years that the waters of a small river in West Africa which disappeared in a fresh water swamp that has no visible outlet find their way by an underground channel into the Atlantic and mingle with the sea through an opening in the bottom that has been discovered a few miles from Cape Verde. A channel has been found on the sea floor which, apparently, was cut by some fresh water stream. During some soundings that were made in 1895 for the purpose of finding and raising a broken cable the vessel engaged in the work was surrounded by swamp vegetation that was continually rising to the surface. It was evidently brought through the underground channel from the swamp.

The breaking of a cable off the mouth of the Rovuma river in East Africa has been attributed to the destructive action of a strong current of sweet water entering the sea level several miles from the land. Another remarkable example of a submarine river is found to the north of the city of Africa on the Pacific coast of South America. A river from the Andes that is gradually swallowed up in the sand has been found to make its way invisibly into the sea, with which it mingles some miles from the land.—New York Sun.

Brain Weight.

It is stated by an authority that the weight of a man's brain has nothing to do with his mental power. It is a question of climate, not of intellect. The colder the climate, the greater the size of the brain. The largest heads of all are those of the Chugchists, who live very far north, and next come the heads of the Lapps.

WHY PROFESSORS' HEADS GO INTO THE BASKET

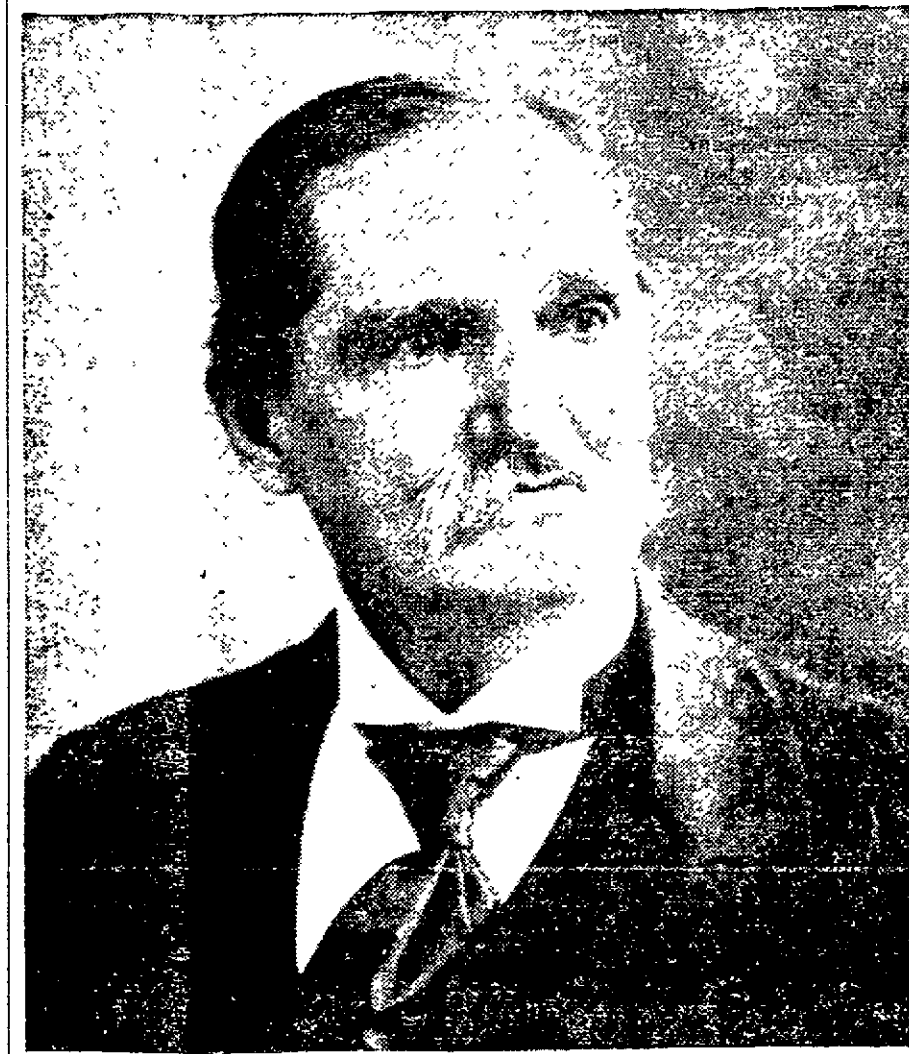

By TOM L. JOHNSON, Mayor of Cleveland

HERE is probably no other great question of national importance about which so little is known and regarding which so little is taught as the one of taxation. The great colleges of the country to which the people look for the spread of such information are silent as a rule upon this great "question." AND WHY? BECAUSE THE PROFESSORS OF THE GREAT AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES, WHICH ARE MAINLY SUPPORTED BY THE ENDOWMENTS OF WEALTHY CAPITALISTS, STAND IN FEAR OF LOSING THEIR POSITIONS IF THEY TEACH THE TRUTH ABOUT THIS QUESTION and even if they devote much attention to it.

I must say that I do not blame them for declining to cut their own throats, but I have known some college professors who have dared to go against the orders of their rich patrons by teaching and talking the truth about economic questions when the truth was opposed to the interests of their employers.

I HAVE ALSO NOTICED THAT ALMOST WITHOUT EXCEPTION THE HEADS OF THE PROFESSORS WENT INTO THE BASKET JUST AS SOON AS THE MILLIONAIRE PATRONS OF THE INSTITUTIONS GAINED COGNIZANCE OF THEIR SPREAD OF PERNICIOUS DOCTRINES.

TOMAS ESTRADA PALMA, WHO WILL PROBABLY BE THE FIRST PRESIDENT OF CUBA.

With the nearer approach of the elections in Cuba the prospects seem to become more certain that the first president of the new island republic will be Tomas Estrada Palma, the quiet, retiring gentleman who now conducts a boys' school in Orange county, N. Y. Mr. Palma is a descendant of an old Cuban family. He took part in the revolution which began in 1895 and in 1897 was elected president of Cuba by the revolutionary government. He was captured and spent seven years in a Spanish fortress as prisoner. He was finally released and came to the United States.

A Sour Stomach.

IS OFTEN THE REAL CAUSE OF A SOUR TEMPER.

That the condition of the digestive organs has a marked effect upon the character or disposition is a truism as old as the hills. Old Ben Jonsson wisely said: "The pleasure of living depends upon the liver," and it is a fact which none may dispute that a sunny disposition more often results from a healthy digestion than from any other cause.

Acid dyspepsia, commonly called sour stomach or heartburn, is caused by slow digestion of food; instead of being promptly digested and converted into blood, bone and muscle, it lies in the stomach for hours, fermenting and decaying creating gases which cause pressure on the lungs and heart, short breath and general discomfort and irritation.

Such half-digested food is indeed poor nourishment for the body, brain and nerves and the results is shown in irritable tempers, unaccountable headaches, and that depressing condition usually called the "blues" but how quickly all these disappear when appetite and digestion are restored.

Laxative medicines only irritate the already irritated stomach and bowels and have no effect upon actual digestion of food.

The sensible course to follow is to make use of simple natural digestives like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals until the stomach has a chance to recuperate.

The natural digestives which every healthy stomach contains are pepsines, diastase and Hydrochloric and lactic acids and when any of them are lacking the trouble begins. The reason Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are so valuable and successful in curing stomach troubles is because they contain, in a pleasant concentrated tablet form all these absolutely necessary essentials for perfect digestion and assimilation of food.

Henry Kirkpatrick of Lawrence, Mass., says: "Men and women whose occupation precludes an active out door life should make it a daily practice to use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals. I have done so myself and I owe my present health and vigor to their daily use."

"From the time I was 22 when I graduated from school with broken health from overwork, until I was 34, I scarcely knew what it was to be free from stomach weakness. I had no appetite whatever for breakfast and very little for any other meal."

"I had acidity and heartburn nearly every day and sometimes was alarmed by irregularity and palpitation of the heart, but all this gradually disappeared after I began using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and I can eat my meals with refresh and satisfaction which I had not known since I was a growing boy."

The success and popularity of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is enormous, but it is deserved, and every druggist in the United States, Canada and Great Britain has a good word for this meritorious preparation.

Big Plate Glass.

Elwood, Ind., Nov. 1.—The Elwood factory of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company has made another world's record in the manufacture of plate glass. The plate just produced by the factory here is 145 by 221 inches. It has been polished and crated and is now standing in the warehouse ready for delivery.

HALLOWE'EN

UNUSUALLY GOOD ORDER PRE-SERVED IN NEWARK.

Boys of Granville Burned the College Organ and Painted a Cottage—Authorities Investigating.

Hallowe'en was duly celebrated in Newark Thursday night but the damage done to property was much less than usual on such occasions. This was no doubt due to the appointment by Mayor Atherton of extra policemen who assisted the regular force in preserving order. Due notice had been given in the local papers that all offenders would be promptly arrested and severely dealt with.

A number of sewer tiles were piled up on the steps at the Fourth street Church of Christ and in falling a great many were broken.

A couple of buggies were put in the canal but Hallowe'en night was very quiet in Newark outside of the regulation "tick tack" and other innocent amusements.

COLLEGE ORGAN BURNED.

Granville, O., Nov. 1.—There were high times in Granville on Thursday night when a number of young men, said to have been students of Denison university, celebrated Hallowe'en in a high-handed manner, committing a number of depredations for which they may be called to account, either by the faculty or the law. They carried out and destroyed the organ in the college chapel, burning part of it up, painted Case cottage, which is situated on the grounds of Shepardson college, overturned a number of outbuildings and committed other minor depredations. It seems strange that boys cannot draw the line properly between innocent fun and unlawful vandalism.

HALLOWE'EN AT DELAWARE.

Delaware, O., Nov. 1.—All Hallowe'en was appropriately celebrated last night by the students of the Ohio Wesleyan university. About 500 of the boys, arrayed in night robes, marched in procession to Monnet hall, the ladies' dormitory, and having built a bonfire of boxes and timber proceeded to execute an Indian war dance in the circle of light. The girls, who were evidently expecting the visit, crowded the windows of the building and encouraged the dancing multitude. The dean of the hall was powerless to prevent the celebration. After the visit to the hall the crowd of white-robed, howling students visited the residence of the professors and serenaded each in their own peculiar way.

PETITION

Against Koester's Commission Because He Took Part in a Carolina Lynching.

Charleston, S. C., Nov. 1.—Because he openly boasted of having fired a shot at a negro who was strung to a tree by a mob of lynchers the citizens of Columbia, according to information received here, have prepared a petition, urging President Roosevelt not to commission George R. Koester, recently appointed Collector of Internal Revenue for this State. Newspaper men and others who attended the lynching are said to have made affidavits, charging Koester with having fired a fatal shot. Referring to the appointment a Columbia newspaper said editorially:

"Koester has not like the President, a record for potting cougars and Spaniards, but he is a fellow sportsman. He has been known to claim to have discharged the first shot at a nigger when that object of the chase was strung up by lynchers near this city a few years ago."

Personal enemies of Koester started the petition.

Misses Myrtle Hickman and Alice Griffin and James Fry were in Newark Wednesday attending a wedding of Miss Leona Hickman to Robert G. Coole, which took place at high noon at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Hickman. The father of the bride officiated at the ceremony, at the conclusion of which dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Coole have left for a trip to Cincinnati, after which they will make their home on Arch street, Newark.—Zanesville Courier.

AN OVERWORKED PHRASE.

The Expression "He Took His Life in His Hands."

"The expression 'he took his life in his hands' always struck me as being very foolish," said a bright young gentleman, "and I have often wondered why so many persons persist in using it when they want to speak of extraordinary dangers. Now, extraordinary danger is one thing and the simple, commonplace thing of taking one's own life in one's hands is an entirely different thing."

"I work in a big building. There are a steam engine and a mammoth boiler in the basement. Whenever I enter that building, if they are running the engine in the basement, I take my life in my hands. I get on the elevator on the fifth floor; I take my life in my hands. I go out of town; the car may tumble over a trestle somewhere. I walk along the street; a sign may fall on me. I make my way across the thoroughfare; who knows but what a street car or a vehicle of some sort may not run me down? I cross the river; may I not suddenly find myself in the swirling stream and sinking for the last time? If I walk along the street, may not a brick or a loosened cornice come crashing down upon me? There are a row and a shot or two on the corner; may not a stray bullet wing me? And so on."

"Pessimism? No, Logic. That's all. It just shows the difference between taking one's own life in one's hands and the matter of confronting extraordinary danger. These risks are ordinary, plain, old, everyday risks. The fireman who dashes into a burning building to rescue a child, the fellow who grabs the bridle of a runaway horse, the hero who will plunge into the river to save some person who is about to drown—these are the persons who confront what I would call extraordinary dangers, and the worn platitude of saying of one of these 'he took his life in his hands' would not fit the case because there would be in the act an element of heroism which would place it much above the commonplace."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

HOYT'S JOKE ON M'KEE.

How the Playwright Had a Bit of Fun With His Manager.

On one occasion Manager McKee was watching a performance from a box, where he was seated with some friends.

During the first act an usher came to him with the information that a gentleman was waiting at the door to see him on most important business.

"Tell him I can't come out—I'm very busy," was the answer.

The usher returned in a moment to say that the man insisted on seeing Mr. McKee, who again sent out word that it was impossible to see him.

The man outside, then sent in the message that he was an author and had a play that he wished McKee to read immediately.

This incensed the manager, who said to the usher:

"Tell that fool out there that this is no time to bring a play to be read. Get him out of the place—I won't see him. I won't read his play."

A few minutes later the usher came back and informed McKee that the man utterly refused to go without seeing him, and that he must be granted an interview, also that he was quite sure that the manager would not read his play, but he would also produce it, and added that he would bet $1,000 that Hoyt & McKee would be only too glad to get the play.

At that McKee became furiously angry, and, excusing himself to his party, left the box with the intention of personally inviting the persistent author to begone.

"Where's that idiot who insists on seeing me?" he asked of the treasurer at the box office. Then the treasurer pointed to a man standing in the shadow with a roll of manuscript under his arm.

It was Hoyt, with his newly finished play, which he handed to McKee, who said to those present:

"It's on me—what'll you have, boys?"—New York Clipper.

Odors That Permeate Foodstuffs.

A fish dealer in one of the most stylish parts of New York was deeply hurt and badly worried one day by the complaint of one of his big customers that a fine salmon which he had sent to the house for a big dinner had proved to be entirely uneatable when served owing to a most penetrating taste of creosote that pervaded it. The fish dealer realized, although the charge was not made directly, that he was more than suspected of having sold a stale fish that had been washed or brushed with an antiseptic preparation to hide its condition. He knew that the salmon had been perfectly fresh when he sold it, and for days he puzzled in vain over the problem. But suddenly he remembered that on the day the fish was sent out a tank wagon full of creosote had stopped before his place and that his cart, into which the fish was being placed, was directly alongside of the powerful stuff. That appears to have been enough to permeate the delicate flesh of the fish.—New York Press.

Woes Morpheus With Picture.

"I have found a cure," said a physician, "for a person who isn't chronically afflicted with insomnia, but who temporarily cannot sleep. It is a curious thing that the picture of a person yawning will almost invariably induce sleep."

"Try it yourself some time if you come across such a photograph. For the life of you you can't help yawning, after a moment, and persistent gazing at the sleepy head will almost inevitably send you to the couch for a nap."—New York Times.

Paying a Creditor.

Like many another famous man both before his time and since, Talleyrand exhibited, at least in early life, a great reluctance to settling with his creditors. When he was appointed bishop of Autun by Louis XVI, he considered a fine new coach to be necessary to the proper maintenance of the dignity of that office. Accordingly a coach was ordered and delivered, but not paid for. Some time after, as the newly appointed bishop was about to enter his coach, he noticed a strange man standing near who bowed continually until the coach was driven away. This occurred for several days until at length Talleyrand, addressing the stranger, said:

"Well, my good man, who are you?"

"I am your coachmaker, my lord," replied the stranger.

"Ah," said Talleyrand, "you are my coachmaker! And what do you want, my coachmaker?"

"I want to be paid, my lord."

"Ah, you are my coachmaker, and you want to be paid? You shall be paid, my coachmaker."

"But when, my lord?"

"Hum," said Talleyrand, settling himself comfortably among the cushions of his new coach and eying his coachmaker severely, "you are very inquisitive!"

SPECIAL DELIVERY

BUSINESS AT NEWARK OFFICE IS KEEPING PACE

With Large Increase in Other Divisions—Valuable Information Furnished by Postmaster Ickes.

The special delivery business at the Newark postoffice has kept pace with the large increase in all divisions of the office. The number of letters specially delivered during the month of September was 240. The special delivery system provides for the issue of a special stamp of the face valuation of ten cents, which when attached to a letter or package (in addition to the lawful postage) will entitle such letter or package to immediate delivery between the hours of 6:30 a. m. and 10:30 p. m. daily, Sundays 9 a. m. to 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. to 2:30 p. m. by messengers, who, upon delivery will procure receipts from the parties addressed, or some one authorized to receive such deliveries.

An ordinary ten cent postage stamp affixed to a letter, will NOT entitle it to special delivery. The design of the special stamp is a messenger boy, and wording on the stamp as follows: "United States special postal delivery, secures immediate delivery at any postoffice, ten cents."

When a letter or parcel stamped with a special delivery stamp fails of delivery for any reason, such as the premises being closed, an error in direction, the absence of any person authorized to sign the receipt, or any other similar cause, it cannot again be offered for delivery as a special delivery letter, but will be delivered as an ordinary letter by letter carrier. If the person addressed has removed it will be forwarded free to its proper address.

Special delivery stamps may be purchased at the main postoffice, postal stations and at some stores, where stamps are sold for the convenience of their patrons.

When so requested by telephone the postmaster will send a messenger to receive letters for local special delivery, in which case the messenger will bring stamp.

The special deliveries are made by the American District Telegraph service, under Superintendent Mannion, who has provided very efficient service. The receipts at the Newark office for the month of October from the sale of stamps, postal cards and stamped envelopes, amounted to $2,161.40.

TEACHER

Won't Apologize for Telling White Pupils Not to Mingle With Colored Ones.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 1.—The rooms of the Cass Street School, largely patronized by colored people, are almost deserted pending an apology by Miss Ivy Reed, a teacher, which that young woman refuses to give. Miss Reed is said to have advised the white children in her room not to mingle socially with their colored mates or even to recognize them socially on the street. The colored children carried the report to their homes and all have been taken from school by their indignant parents.

Rev. John Albert Williams, of the Church of St. Philip, the deacon and other prominent colored people have appealed to the school board, setting forth in a long petition their right as taxpayers to send their children to the public schools without being subjected to insult. The board has summoned Miss Reed to appear, and the nature of her alleged offensive remarks will be investigated.

Two hundred colored children are enjoying a vacation while the matter is being settled.

CONTINUED—Mabel Crethers, Alice Dewesse and Lillian Martin, three small girls, were brought before the Probate Court on the charge of truancy. Their cases were continued until tomorrow.

TRUANT—Henry Henthorne of the Children's Home, was brought before the Probate Court on the charge of truancy and incorrigibility. Judge Taylor sentenced the boy to a term at the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster.

O. W. ROGERS

Died at Chicago Hospital—Was a Prominent Licking County Man and a Mason.

Kirkersville, O., Nov. 1.—Mr. Oscar W. Rogers, one of the best known and most highly respected residents of this part of the county, died at his home two miles northeast of this place at 6 o'clock on Thursday evening. About four weeks ago he went to Chicago to have an operation performed on him by his brother, Dr. L. D. Rogers, and while there telegraphed for his wife to come. Upon her arrival in Chicago Mrs. Rogers was taken very sick and was sent to the hospital with her husband. Mr. Rogers grew better, and it was decided that it was not necessary to perform the operation on him and he returned home to look after matters, leaving his wife in the hospital. He had been home but three or four days however, when he was taken sick again, and rapidly sank until Thursday evening when he passed away. Besides his wife the deceased leaves three children, two sons and one daughter, to mourn his death. The deceased was a thorough Christian gentleman, and was considered a model man. He was a member of the Hebron Lodge of Masons. At this writing it is not known when the funeral will take place. Mrs. Rogers has been informed by telegraph of the death of her husband, and will return home as soon as possible.

FEDERATION

OF WOMEN'S CLUBS IN SESSION AT DAYTON.

Interesting Reports and Addresses—Ohio Leads in Membership—19 Counties Not Yet Represented.

Dayton, O., Nov. 1.—The Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs met yesterday in the Victoria theater. Mrs. Robert Dexter of Dayton, delivered an eloquent address of welcome, which was responded to by Mrs. Tasker Bosworth of Marietta, State Vice President.

Mrs. James R. Hopley, the State President, then delivered a stirring address, in which she advocated the establishment of a state normal school and the installation of permanent public libraries.

Mrs. Frank Kraft of Cleveland, made her report as Recording Secretary.

Mrs. John Mulford of Columbus Corresponding Secretary, reported 287 clubs and a membership of 19,260. During the past year 23 new clubs have been added to the Federation. The report showed that the clubs are gradually drifting away from literary work and devoting more time to current events and to the study of laws of special reference to women.

Mrs. Addison F. Broomhall of Troy, Treasurer, reported that the year's receipts were $1,030.59, and the expenditures $1,910.59.

The Federation Secretary, Mrs. Henry H. Hovey, of Xenia, reported a membership of 65,000, including the Society of the American Women in London and other foreign cities.

Mrs. John T. Mack of Sandusky, reported in the library extension work. During the year the number of libraries in the state increased from 697 to 741. Miss Mary Locke of Toledo, led the discussion on the report.

An interesting report was made on club extension by Mrs. Horace E. Kendall of Cleveland. The formation of mothers' clubs was the principal work of this committee during the year. She pointed out that 49 counties in the state remain unrepresented in the Federation and that every effort will be made to enlist them into membership. However, Ohio is a leader of all states in the Federation. Louis D. Bonebrake, Ohio Commissioner of Public Schools, showed how the Federation could influence the 325,000 school children and commended the Federation. Mrs. Jane Hitchcock of Sidney, read the report of the sub-committee on Education, Mrs. W. H. C. Goode leading the discussion.

Mrs. Bosworth was chairman of the afternoon meeting. Miss Clara Eugenia Crane of Springfield, made an interesting report of the Committee on Domestic Economy. Mrs. Linda Hull Larned, President of the National Household Economic Association, and a writer of note, who went to the Paris Exposition upon invitation of Commissioner Peck as a delegate, delivered an address touching upon the subjects with which she is happily familiar. Mrs. Wm. D. Gibbs of Columbus, led the discussion. Mrs. Florence Kelly, Secretary of the National Consumers' League, spoke on "Woman: Her Power When Applied to Industrial Life of a Nation."

After adjournment the delegates visited the factory of the National Cash Register company and to the National Military Home. At the N. C. R. works President J. H. Patterson entertained the delegates with a brief lecture on "Village Improvement."

Last night at the Victoria hundreds were unable to gain admission, and delegates who were not present ten minutes prior to the commencement could not get in. All of the boxes were filled with stylishly gowned ladies, and the assemblage was a brilliant one. A concert and authors' reading had been programmed. Lillian Belle Bogue, the impressionist writer, giving a delightful interpretation of her own works. Previous to the reading the delegates enjoyed a superb concert. The programme was as follows:

Quartet—Old glee song, "Which is the Properest Day to Sing." First Presbyterian Church Choir.

Voice—"She is Thine," LeRoy Tebb, tenor-barytone.

Duet—"Over the Heather," Mrs. Ritzler and M. Tunison.

Piano—"Roses de Boheme," Herman R. Kaneger.

Voice—"Love is a Bubble—Good-Night, Dear," Miss Maud Reber.

Quartet—"Twas on a Bank of Daisies."

Piano Concerto—Miss Emma Schenck; second piano, Mr. Kaeper.

Voice—"Endymion," Miss Clara Turpin, soprano.

Voice, Violin, Harp, Piano—Invocation, Mrs. Talbot, Mrs. Lawrence, Miss Chamberlin, Mr. Kaeper.

In the list of names of Newark club women who are attending the State Federation, published yesterday, two were omitted. Mrs. W. H. Parrish is a representative of the Review club, and Mrs. Robert M. Davidson is one of the representatives of the Monday Talks at the Dayton gathering.

A NEW EDITION

Of John L. Stoddard's famous Travel-Lectures, which have reached a sale of 65,000 sets, is now ready. It is printed from entirely new plates and is complete in eleven superb volumes. These volumes contain all of Mr. Stoddard's celebrated lectures just as they were delivered to more than three thousand audiences. There are 33 lectures in all. The lectures picture and describe 33 separate countries each country being treated by itself in a separate lecture. There are 4,200 engravings in the series, each one made from an original photograph taken on the spot by Mr. Stoddard's own artist. These lectures describe the geography of each country including its natural scenery, its history, its art, its architecture, its literature and its political, religious and social life.

Five millions of cultured people for eighteen years crowded to hear John L. Stoddard in his stereopticon lectures about the world we live in. It cost $100 for two people to listen to them all just once. In their published form we get them, word for word and picture for picture, just as delivered.

They fill a great want in the home for accurate and graphic information about the world's treasures. Probably no work ever issued from the American press has met with such universal favor and given such complete satisfaction as the Stoddard lectures. Several Newark families have used them during the past year and always with increasing satisfaction. They cover a whole department and are used every day by some one. Read. Plan. Watch. Listen.

OUT FOR PRESIDENT.

General Bartolome Maso of Cuba Issues a Statement.

HE MAKES A STOUT BID FOR VOTES.

Has Complimentary Things to Say of the Spaniards, the Autonomists and the Negroes—Discusses Reconstruction, the Platt Amendment and Other Timely Themes.

Havana, Nov. 1.—Senor Tomas Estrada Palma and his supporters were surprised by the manifesto issued by General Bartolome Maso, announcing his candidacy for president of the Cuban republic. General Maso makes a strong bid for the autonomist, Spanish and negro vote. He says it is necessary to associate with the new republic the Autonomist party, "whose knowledge of the needs of the country is undeniable, and whose work for Cuba's welfare under Spanish rule was such as to establish its leaders as men of sound judgment. The military government," he continues, "has ignored this element, not considering it necessary. It is also desirable to associate in the work of forming the republic the colored race, which is an essential factor in our social existence, and has proven an orderly element even amid great suffering. We can not abandon these heroes now by denying them participation in our political personality. We must have with us, too, the Spaniards, who are the nerve of our existence. The future of Cuba can not be to them a matter of indifference."

"The Cubans today are a poor people. We have lost a lot of time during the intervention. The element around the military governor has forgotten the duty of reconstruction. Where much might easily have been accomplished nothing has been done. It is necessary to reorganize the various departments on an economical basis."

Referring to the Platt amendment, General Maso observes: "It is obvious that absolute independence of government is not to be established, for the unavoidable demands of foreign policy must be satisfied. The treaty which the Cubans are going to draw up with the United States should be the subject of immediate attention in order to carry on the government intelligently. In the treaty, we shall have to try to get concessions from the United States."

John Morley on the War.

London, Nov. 1.—John Morley, M. P., addressing his constituents at Abroath, said: "The government is aggravating the essential mischief of the situation in South Africa, by their management of the concentration camps. The death rate of children, measure it as you will, is hideous, excessive and appalling. The policy of devastation has been admitted to be a mistake. I wonder what Lord Palmerston would have said of a government justifying themselves by saying that Russia in Poland and Austria in Bosnia had done something like the same? The war has entirely changed in character and is drifting into a war of extermination of a people fighting for their own land. The king will perhaps at no distant date have to seek other ministers with a better insight and a more pliant mind in face of the dangerous and complex situation which confronts the country."

Insurgents Around Panama.

Washington, Nov. 1.—The navy department has made public the following extract from a mail report received from Captain Thomas Perry of the battleship Iowa, which has been lying at Panama watching the progress of affairs in that quarter: "I have the honor to report that at this moment activities are taking place on the part of the insurgents, who have until recently been in the neighborhood of Chorrera. On Saturday, Oct. 19, it was reported that Chorrera had been evacuated by the insurgents. Insurgents were seen on Sunday, Oct. 20, in small numbers, on the hills west of and near Panama. It is said this movement on the part of the insurgents has been forced upon them before they were ready by the prevalence of smallpox in their camp at Chorrera."

Reception to Lipton.

London, Nov. 1.—Immediately after his arrival in London Sir Thomas Lipton drove out to his suburban residence, "Osidge," at Southgate. An assemblage of friends and neighbors met him about two miles from the house with a band, unharnessed horses and drew the carriage home. Responding to an address of welcome presented on behalf of the village of Southgate, he said he had hoped to drink from the cup in Southgate, but it had stuck in spite of a jerk he had given it. "I mean to lift it yet," he said, in concluding his speech.

Shot by a Woman.

Great Bend, Kan., Nov. 1.—Mrs. J. E. Hotchkiss of this city shot and killed James Duffy at his home in Blinwood, this county. Duffy was a brother-in-law of the woman. She suspected him of having certain of her belongings in his possession. Obtaining a search warrant, she went to his house from here with the sheriff, and while the house was being searched she drew a pistol and shot Duffy.

Building Burned.

New York, Nov. 1.—The 5-story building at Worth and Church street, occupied by White & Company, wholesale dealers in linens and dry goods; Joshua I. Bailey & Company, linens, and a branch office of Henry Clews & Company, bankers, was burned. Five firemen were injured, one of them seriously. Loss estimated at $60,000.

Nerve Slavery

It is present-day conditions—heaping burdens of work upon the nervous system that tells the story—premature breaking up of health.

It tells why so many men and women, who so far as age is concerned, should be in the prime of health, find themselves letting go of the strength, the power, the vitality they once possessed. It is because that great motor power of the body, nerve force, is impaired. Neither will the heart, the brain, the liver, the kidneys, the stomach act right without their proper nerve force supply. Let any organ be lacking in this essential and troubles begin—some of them are:

Throbbing, palpitating heart.
Sleepless nights.
Sudden startings.
Morning languor.
Brain fog.
Inability to work or think.
Exhaustion after exertion.
Flagging appetite.
Digestion slow.
Food heavy.
Easily excited, nervous, irritable.
Strength fails.
Loss of flesh and muscular power.
Acidulated melancholia.

The above is the genuine package of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills, are sold by dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Company, Buffalo, N. Y. For sale at City Drug Store, Newark, Ohio.

It has been found that perhaps the main reason why tuberculosis advances so rapidly at Hongkong is that in most cases it is complicated with malaria.

Bloobs—"Society is full of shams." Rogbs—"Yes; think of a man sending 'sloggs' when he is invited to a 5 o'clock tea."

"This is indeed a dramatic treat," remarked the man with the impressionistic nose as the actor ordered another round.

It doesn't take a brave man to be a street car conductor, in spite of the fact that only the brave deserve the fare.

Comparatively few horses attain to 17 hands, but Kansas boasts of one that measures 20 hands and weighs 2,412 pounds. This big creature is owned by a man named Stout, who lives in Donoman county, Kansas.

During September, Great Britain shipped $2,598,000 gold to Germany. This is less than in the same month of 1900, when $4,722,500 was sent.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

In the Kitchen.

From the kitchen comes the life of the household, literally, and in that there must be good cheer and convenience. This is really most material, for a bad-tempered cook may sour the food, and a dark kitchen will most certainly breed more kinds of bacteria than are wholesome. What, then, should we look for in a kitchen? First, light enough to see dirt—light over the sink, light near the stove, light flooding every corner—sunlight, too, from one window at least; windows or ventilators so placed at the top as to let out bad air, steam odors, etc. The odors of burned food, boiled cabbage, etc., are far less noticeable if there is plenty of fresh air to oxidize them. Then, if the kitchen is large, a sink in the middle of the room so that more than one person can conveniently get at it, but not of the inclosed variety, mind you, the horrible drip trap! At the expense of a few more steps a cold pantry on the outside for fruit, vegetables and many such things as are better kept cool and dry than cold and damp, as in the icebox or refrigerator. Kitchens are often too large, requiring too many steps. This is due to a mistaken idea that unless large they will be hot and stuffy. Not so with proper air flues and proper methods of cooking. As evidence, look at a ship's galley—everything at hand and all immaculately clean. The paths of work should not too often cross or interfere. In a factory the raw material never goes back upon its path from the time it enters until it leaves the building. The kitchen should be made as sanitary as the hospital or the dairy. The passion for woodwork which led builders of fifty years ago to box up the kitchen sink induced them to make drawers in the kitchen and pantry closets. These, set in their thin frames under the stairs, in closets, anywhere, are responsible for much of the misery caused by waterbugs and bacteria.

A Measuring Funnel.

The average housewife would dearly like to have a funnel that will measure liquids which are poured through it into bottles or jugs. A citizen of Chicago, Gottlieb Neudecker, has patented just such a contrivance, which will act incidentally as a strainer if desired. It has a valve in the lower part and the upper part is divided into four sections, each of which represents so many gills. Supported by its handle, the funnel holds tight whatever fluid may be put into it until the measurement is adjusted. Then, upon being allowed to rest upon the neck of the bottle or jug, the weight of the upper portion bears downward and opens the valve, permitting the contents to escape into the receptacle below.

You can fill it as many times as you like, of course, and as you continue the process it measures for you with accuracy each portion of liquid contributed.

Secret of Good Tea.

Few housekeepers remember, as they should, that when it is necessary to dilute strong tea it should be done with water at the boiling point. The poor flavor of tea made strong at first and then reduced, such as is too often served at receptions and "at homes," is usually caused by the addition of hot, not boiling, water to the first infusion. A lesson in this matter may be had from the Russians, who serve the most delicious tea in the world, and who prepare it first very strong, making it almost an essence of tea. This is diluted to the strength wished with water kept boiling in the samovar. This water is not allowed to boil and reboil, but is renewed as needed. Freshly boiled water is insisted upon by all connoisseurs in teamaking.

Preparing Spanish Onions.

Spanish onions cooked or sliced raw for a salad are an appetizing viand. A delicious way of cooking these onions is to boil them in milk. One large onion is sufficient for four persons when served as a dinner vegetable. First peel the onion carefully, then let it soak for two hours in cold water well salted, then place it in a large saucepan, pour in enough milk to cover the onion to the depth of an inch, stand it over a slow fire, put the cover on the saucepan and let the onion simmer gently for three hours. Then serve it in a deep vegetable dish with plenty of melted butter. Season with pepper and salt and a little finely chopped parsley.

French Frozen Pudding.

Scald one quart of milk; mix one cupful of sugar, one-fourth of a cupful of flour, two eggs, all well beaten together; turn this into the milk, stir well and cook twenty minutes; let this get cold and then add one quart of cream, one cupful of sugar, one dessertspoonful of vanilla, two ounces of port wine, one-half pound of French fruits; freeze and serve with one pint of whipped cream.

TABULATED

SCORES MADE ON THE RIFLE RANGE AT NEWARK.

Expert Riflemen to Represent Ohio at the Sea Girt Shoot—Ohio National Guard Team.

The scores made by members of the Ohio National Guard at the annual rifle practice at the Newark range last month have been tabulated by the force in the office of the adjutant general.

The record of this season's competition shows a slight increase in general averages as compared with that of 1900, and this increase is very perceptible in commands which have recently become interested in this important part of the soldier's instruction. The greatest results have been obtained by those commands by which armory practice in aiming and pointing drill and work on the local ranges have been followed, and these commands have achieved creditable success.

The men making the highest scores have been selected to make up the state team for the international shoot at Seagirt next year. They are: Gay H. Dicken, company G, Sixth regiment; James W. Smith, G, Sixth; Charles F. Hake, I, First; William H. Richard, G, Sixth; Wayne Fry, G, Sixth; James Wendling, M, Sixth; Benjamin South, F, First; Don C. Scofield, engineers; Frank R. Beer, E, Eighth; Fred H. Zerfuh, A, Sixth; Carl F. Benecke, K, Fifth.

Sergeant Guy H. Dicken, company G, Sixth regiment, is the winner of the "governor's badge," and Lieutenant James W. Smith, company G, is the winner of the "adjutant general's badge." The Clement medal, presented by Capt. Henry C. Clement, Jr., of the Twentieth United States infantry, was won by Corporal Charles B. Winder, company D, Third infantry, who made the highest score at the longest range, 45 out of a possible 50 at 600 yards. The Mead trophy, presented by Colonel Harry E. Mead of the Third infantry, was awarded to the regimental team of the Third infantry, which made a score of 185 out of a possible 450 at skirmish firing. The badge for excellence in revolver practice, presented by Major Frank M. Bell, assistant inspector general, First brigade, was won by Charles F. Hake, Jr., on a score of 39 out of a possible 50 at 50 yards.

The relative standing of the several regimental teams as shown during the competition is as follows: Sixth infantry, 1209; Fifth, 1046; Eighth, 1043; Third, 972; Engineer Battalion, 965; Seventh, 887; First, 881; Second, 873; Fourth, 791; Ninth battalion, 587.

The following is the standing of the regimental teams in skirmish firing at unknown distances, six men in each team, possible score of 450: Third infantry, 189; First, 144; Seventh, 138; Eighth, 125; Second, 106; Fourth, 101; Fifth, 103; Sixth, 100; engineer battalion, 100; Ninth battalion, 53.

Buller a Popular Idol.

London, Nov. 1.—General Buller threatens to blossom into a British Broussard. He does not appear to court privacy or to discountenance demonstrations. He attended a theater in London, and when he was recognized and cheered he rose to his feet and bowed his acknowledgments. Outside of the building General Buller was mobbed by cheering crowds and the police had to be called to clear the street. There is no doubt that a large section of the troops are indignant at the general's dismissal. The Highland light infantry expressed this feeling by removing from the walls of its messroom the portrait of a distinguished field marshal, which was kicked around the barracks, while a portrait of General Buller was carried around the mess in triumph.

Ton of Silver Stolen.

Omaha, Nov. 1.—A ton of silver bullion has mysteriously disappeared from the criminal courtroom. The silver a few days ago figured as an exhibit in a junk-stealing case, and had been left in the courtroom awaiting claim time as the proprietors should claim it. The junk dealers were tried and acquitted on a charge of having bought stolen property. The janitor says a dray drove up to the building and that four strong men carried the bars away. Judge Baker, who presides over the criminal court, is much perplexed over the matter, and is taking steps to unearth the whereabouts of the metal. It was "base" bullion, worth something over $1,000.

It cures all kinds of colic, soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is one of the best remedies for diarrhea. It is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and get Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other.

CEBU INSURGENTS

Surrender to the American Forces. Hot Engagement.

Manilla, Nov. 1.—General Hughes has reported to headquarters the complete surrender of the insurgents in the island of Cebu, consisting of 450 men and 60 officers, with 150 rifles and eight brass field pieces. The pouring of troops into the island of Samar is believed to have had a good effect on the Cebu insurgents, who had been wavering for some time.

Advices from Catubagan, island of Samar, say that 12 men of Company G of the Ninth infantry, under command of Sergeant Willford, who had been sent from Bases to San Antonio to investigate in regard to the number of bolonon in the vicinity, were viciously attacked by 140 insurgents, who rushed upon them with great violence, killing two of the soldiers and wounding two others. Willford remained cool and collected during the attack and the survivors say he acted splendidly. Fourteen of the insurgents were killed. Captain Bookmiller of Company G recommends Willford for a medal of honor and Privates Swanton and Vero for certificates of merit.

An Act to Punish Treason.

Manilla, Nov. 1.—The Philippine commission has drafted an act against treason and sedition. The penalty prescribed for treason is death, and the act is framed to include those persons giving aid and comfort to the insurgents. Persons who utter seditious words or speeches or who write libels against the United States government or the insular government are punishable by the imposition of a fine of $2,000 or to two years' imprisonment. For the breaking of the oath of allegiance a fine of $2,000 or imprisonment for 10 years is fixed as the penalty. Foreigners are placed under the same laws as are Americans and natives. A public discussion of the act will be had Saturday.

Treasurer Roberts' Report.

Washington, Nov. 1.—William H. Roberts, treasurer of the United States, in his report of the transactions of his office during the last fiscal year, says that the treasury was never stronger than at the close of that period. The operations, which were of the first order, both in variety and magnitude, resulted in noteworthy changes in the paper currency, as well as a steady and healthful growth of gold in the treasury and in the general stock. The net ordinary revenues for the year were $537,685,327, an increase of $20,444,485 over those of 1900, which were the next highest recorded. The increase came from each of the heads of resources, but chiefly from internal revenue. On the side of the expenditures the total was $509,967,253.

Callahan Perjury Case.

Omaha, Nov. 1.—A dozen witnesses were examined in the Callahan perjury trial. Most of the testimony went to show that Callahan had perjured himself by swearing to his whereabouts during the time prior to and immediately following the Cuddey kidnapping. Several witnesses identified Callahan as one of the men who were connected with the dealings for the famous bay pony which was used to deliver the letter to Mr. Cuddey's attorney also testified to the ransom payment, and the young man who was kidnapped repeated his testimony and related the imprisonment and other features of the kidnapping.

West Virginia Miners.

Huntington, W. Va., Nov. 1.—Twenty-five of the officials and organizers of the United Mine Workers of America attended the first session of the state miners' convention here. The presence of John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers; Vice President Lewis, Secretary-Treasurer Wilson and others of prominence, made the meeting one of more than ordinary importance. The convention consists of more than 150 union miners from Virginia and West Virginia. A permanent organization was effected and the usual committees appointed. A plan for organizing West Virginia will be outlined.

Public Land.

Washington, Nov. 1.—The annual report of Commissioner Hermann of the general land office says that 15,562,796 acres of public land were disposed of during the last fiscal year, an increase of 2,108,908 over the previous year, which was the banner year in public land sales. The net surplus from the entire land and forest administration is $3,453,442. The report refers to the large number of prosecutions begun in Idaho and Montana for perjury and subornation of perjury in entries of land under the timber land act.

On the Lookout For a Red.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Commissioner Powderly of the immigration bureau has sent notices to all immigration officers to be on the lookout for a man known as Jaffee, an anarchist, other wise known as "Jaffee, the Red," who is supposed to be on his way to the United States. If he is found on any of the incoming steamers he will be detained and probably deported. Jaffee is an Italian under 25.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Williamsport, Pa., Sun, says of the great Francisus who will appear tomorrow night at the Auditorium:

"Magician Francisus at the Lycoming opera house last evening afforded an entertainment of merit. His audience was an extremely critical one, upon him, but rather one seeking to discover defects in manipulation or explanation of the magician's illusions. To the credit of Francisus, however, it must be said that his clever work provoked spontaneous tributes of applause, and at the conclusion of the entertainment his audience combined in a verdict of approval. His sleights of hand are most cleverly done, and with his elegant paraphernalia and rich stage settings the beholder cannot be otherwise than pleased with the magician's program. His closing illusion, the sarcophagus scene, is productive of a sensation at once weird and fascinating. The fire dances likewise carry with them most pleasing effects. As a whole the Francisus evening is one rich with wonderment and delight."

TROLLEY LINES MUST SETTLE.

Director of Accounts Cussins has notified the Columbus Railway company and the Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction company to remit the amount of rebates to property owners along their lines not heretofore paid. The Columbus railway owes $2,069.75 to property owners on Parsons avenue between Innis avenue and the south corporation line. The amount to be rebated by the other company is $12,004.98, the individual amounts due property owners having just been ascertained by the engineering department.—Columbus Dispatch.

The Railroad Company for Damages—
M. Fournier Talks About His Automobile Accident.

New York, Nov. 1.—Henry Fournier, the French chauffeur, who with five friends was run down by an engine on the Long Island railroad last Wednesday at Westbury, has engaged counsel to bring suit against the railroad for damages. Fournier will estimate his damage at about $50,000. He says that his machine was worth $9,000 and that his injuries will incapacitate him for a long time. He will also advise his friends to bring suit. Fournier claims the danger signal at the crossing did not ring.

In speaking of the accident he said: "Chauffeurs are born, not made. It is not logic but feeling. I feel danger and follow my instinct rather than my reason. It is my instinct which saved the lives of my companions and myself."

The injured men with the exception of H. B. Fullerton are recovering rapidly. Fullerton's condition is still serious.

coal. We were trying to find Schley." "When did Sigsbee say he had caught the collier?" "Two mornings before."

"Are you prepared to say on your oath that Sigsbee did not say the Spanish were not in Santiago?" "The Summers N. Smith was a very small boat and whatever was said ought to have been heard on it, but I cannot swear to it. I can swear that he did not say it to me and that the impression on our boat was that the Spanish were in Santiago."

"Hold on, we don't want impressions. Are you prepared to swear that Mr. Hare is not correct?" "No I am not."

The court had no questions.

The Schley court of inquiry has adjourned until Monday.

Washington, Nov. 1.—A number of witnesses were introduced in the Schley court of inquiry to testify in rebuttal of the evidence given in Admiral Schley's behalf. Those called were: Captain Charles D. Sigsbee, Captain Francis E. Chadwick, Captain Joseph C. Eaton, Lieutenant John H. Roys and Chief Quartermaster Neil Anderson, all of whom testified to incidents connected with the campaign of 1898.

Captain Chadwick said that the precautionary dispatches from the navy department in regard to attacking the Spanish shore batteries had not been communicated to Commodore Schley. This statement is regarded as of great importance by Admiral Schley's opponents, as it distinctly contradicted the admiral's own statements. Captain Sigsbee testified concerning his interview on the Brooklyn with Commodore Schley. Captain Eaton was the commander of the dispatch boat Resolute during the war, and his testimony related largely to events which occurred just before and just after the battle on July 3. Lieutenant Roys served on board the Eagle, and his statement bore upon the Eagle's meeting with the Brooklyn when the latter was en route to Cienfuegos and again while the flagship lay off that port. He stated that Commander Sutherland had asked not to be sent to Port Antonio for coal, and had asked to be allowed to coal from the Merrimac.

Before these witnesses were introduced for the department the court heard Captain T. S. Borden of the marine corps, who served on the Brooklyn in Admiral Schley's behalf. He was the last of the admiral's witnesses, and he testified that the admiral had borne himself honorably during the battle of July 3.

ANNUAL

Report of Commissary General Weston Made Public Today—Fifteen Millions Expended.

Washington, Nov. 1.—The annual report of Commissary General Weston was made public today. It quotes from officers in the Philippines. "Contrary to theory, practical demonstration proves beyond doubt that American soldiers serving in those islands need the full army ration and the addition of more sugar. The same amount of first-class fresh beef is required as in Montana; health cannot be maintained without an abundance of nutritious food, carefully prepared. The foreign population in these islands and wealthy natives are just as heavy eaters as Americans; besides they use a great deal of Scotch whisky and red wine. The poorer classes live on rice and fish but not from choice."

This department expended for subsistence of soldiers for the year just ended, $15,622,228.

STONE WORTH $70,000.

New York, Nov. 1.—A new blue diamond, rivalled in size and color by only two stones in the world, passed through the custom house yesterday. The stone weighs 22½ carats and its foreign value is $70,000. The price to be asked for it here is $190,000. The big diamond is owned by a French syndicate. It is said that a Fifth avenue jewelry house proposes to sell it to an American millionaire railroad magnate who is looking for a Christmas present for his wife. The diamond came from the Golconda mines of India, about the only section of this world that produces tinted diamonds. It is about an inch and a half long and an inch wide. It is cut but comes uncut. Experts say that though this is not absolutely the largest blue diamond in the world, it is the finest in point of color, and that even the Hope jewel cannot compare with the wondrous azure of its flashes.

CLAIMS EFFORT TO DESTROY CZOLGOSZ'S BODY.

Has Failed—Says It Was Mistake to Pour Vitriol Upon the Quick Lime.

New York, Nov. 1.—A Newark, N. J., chemist, is out with a statement that the efforts to destroy Czolgosz's body may have resulted in its preservation instead. Warden Meade, in order to destroy the body of the assassin, covered it with quicklime and then poured over the mass a carboy of vitriol. The chemist states that the action of the quicklime and vitriol resulted in plaster of paris and that Czolgosz might as well have been placed in alcohol instead of being preserved in a matrix of plaster of paris.

PRISONER

Gave the Alarm, Which Prevented a Wholesale Delivery and the Judge Rewards Him.

Montgomery, W. Va., Nov. 1.—Joe Finney, a one-armed man, who had just been sentenced to 18 years in the penitentiary on the charge of murder, gave the alarm when prisoners were escaping from the Fayette jail the other evening. His alarm brought the officers who prevented a wholesale escape, although 27 inmates got away before the officers came. Thursday Finney was again called into court, the verdict in his case set aside and he was allowed to plead guilty of manslaughter and received one year. The judge passed a high compliment on his action in the jail matter and stated that was why his sentence was changed.

FIANCE

TOLD IN A DREAM OF FATAL ACCIDENT.

Ellabarger Had Just Had Life Insured for Benefit of Girl He Was to Wed.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 1.—Brakeman John E. Ellabarger, one of the three men instantly killed in the Vandallia freight wreck near Judson, Ind., last night, was to have been married next Thursday to Miss Nettie Palmateer, a school teacher of this city. Two months ago he insured his life for $2,000 made payable to his fiancée. Three weeks ago Miss Palmateer had a dream that her intended husband was killed in a wreck and two men, Fred Black and Louis Cook, notified her in a dream that he was dead. These men broke the news to her last night at eleven o'clock.

ONE MAN'S LUCK.

Steered Into a Junior Partnership by a Chance Gust of Wind.

"Speaking of taking in partners," said a downtown business man, "our junior was, you might say, blown in on us, and I saw him started in our direction, though I had no idea of it at the time."

"Going down town one summer morning on a Ninth avenue elevated train I saw sitting opposite to me a young man who caught my fancy, a substantial, earnest, straightforward looking chap, whose looks I liked first rate. He was reading a paper, and presently he tore off from his paper an advertisement leaf that he didn't want and threw it out of a window or tried to, for as a matter of fact it didn't go out. A gust of wind with just the right twist to it came along at just that moment and blew the paper back, to fall on a vacant seat next to him."

"And as it fell something in it caught his eye, and he picked up that part which he had just been trying to throw away and began earnestly to read it and ended up by folding it carefully and putting it in his pocket."

"About four minutes after I'd got in here that morning this same young man walks in and applies for a place that we had been waiting for somebody to fill. Our advertisement for a man for it was in that paper which I had seen this young man try to throw away, and which a gust of wind, by one chance in a million or more, had blown back upon him and in such a manner as to fix his attention."

"As a matter of fact I hadn't liked the young man's act of throwing the paper out of an elevated car window. A paper floating down and around as that would do might frighten horses and lead to no end of trouble and lots of damage, but no one man thinks about everything, and he'd learn better about this, I knew, and so as a matter of fact I took this young man on the spot on my first impressions of him. He far more than made good and in due course of time he came into his junior partnership, literally and truly blown into it."

"Sort o' queer, eh?"—New York Sun.

A CORDIAL RECEPTION.

The Book Agent Got One That Wasn't Intended For Him.

There is a farmer living just north of Evanston and a book agent some where in the cosmopolitan desert of Chicago each of whom feels that he is a victim of a cruel circumstance.

Last week the farmer had a note from a nephew to say that the boy would visit the farm on Thursday. Uncle and nephew had not met for fifteen years, and the old man drove to the station in his most uncomfortable coat that he might welcome his sister's child. But the young man failed to arrive. After waiting till the last passenger had disappeared the old man drove away, disappointed.

The book agent entered into the dramatic personae early the next morning. Looking over the top rail of the barnyard gate, he called, "Hello, uncle!"

The book agent never got such a reception before in all his life. The farmer flung the gate wide open, seized the agent's hand and pressed a whiskered kiss on the ironclad cheek.

"Say, this must be heaven," murmured the agent, following the farmer into the house and explaining that everybody at home was as well as could be expected. Not till the agent was full of a boiled dinner and attempted to sell a book did the farmer begin to see a dim light. Charged with impersonating the missing nephew, the agent explained that he greeted all elderly strangers as "uncle," that he even had a few almost real ones in South Clark street in Chicago.

When last seen by the farmer, the agent was still running, and when the real nephew does come he may find an electric current in the late stringing.

DEBENTURE

Bonds to Be Sold for Benefit of Creditors December 10—Judge Badger's Order.

Columbus, O. Nov. 1.—Judge Badger has made an order to sell the bonds deposited with the state treasurer by the Ohio Debenture company. The sale of the bonds under the order is to take place on December 10. There are $55,000 worth. This is the real beginning of the close of the debenture company's affairs under the receivership. Some time ago an order was made to sell, but later, on the representation of the company that it could be postponed till the master commissioner made his report and thus accumulate more interest, that order was set aside. Objection was made this morning by Mr. E. C. Morton, attorney for the company to the making of the order of sale for December 10, but as it was understood that Master Commissioner Okey would be ready by December 1 to file his report, the order was made. After the sale, it will be in order to apply to the courts for an order distributing the proceeds among the creditors, unless some finding by the master should leave matters in such shape that a distribution cannot take place. Of course, it might be that only a partial distribution of the proceeds could be made.

The place for the sale to take place is left indefinite, the order being merely to State Treasurer Cameron to sell.

POSTER AND NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING.

A printer who makes a feature of advertising posters remarks that "the bill board is the brass band of an advertising campaign," and that "it fits into a newspaper advertising campaign admirably." However, he does not affirm (nor does any disinterested person of experience affirm) that the billboard or any other agency can be successfully used in place of the newspaper. A number of large advertisers, including theatrical managers, have abandoned posters altogether in order to put more money into newspaper advertising.—Philadelphia Record.

ARIZONA KICKLETS.

A Number of Lively Items From a Lively Paper.

[Copyright, 1901, by C. D. Lewis.] It will soon be time again for us to buckle on our guns and interview the half dozen shyster lawyers who have brought libel suits against The Kicker during the past six months. We always enjoy such occasions.

We don't say that the critter who put a bullet through our hat the other night as we were riding home from Blue Valley intended assassination, but we think such jokes out of place and can't appreciate them. Our feet were cold for two hours after we got home.

It is not exactly true that the editor of this paper, who owns 11,000 acres of desert land, is going into strawberries next year. He has figured it out that it would take eight barrels of water to a berry and that he would have to dig a canal fifty four miles long to get it. Our best hold is politics.

Dr. Johnson is the last physician to hang out his sign among us, and he is said to be rapidly building up a practice. If it turns out that he knows a case of the whooping cough from a compound fracture of the leg, we shall be glad of his coming. Most of the other doctors in town picked up their knowledge in a blacksmith shop.

It may have been observed that The Kicker never says "it is alleged" so and so. We always call a man a murderer or a horse thief if we think he is one, and if he can convince us to the contrary we make him an apology. This keeps things pretty lively, but it gives general satisfaction.

This town is not sending out boom pamphlets as to its churches, schools, factories and railroads, but if any man is looking for a place where he can get out and yell any time he wants to or where he can shoot all day long and not have to look for other people this place should be given a fair trial.

Major George Scott and ex-Judge Truesdale fired six shots at each other in front of the postoffice yesterday, and each escaped unhurt. That such men are permitted to carry guns instead of broom handles must in time make Giveadam Gulch the laughing stock of the territory. We have personally given each the cold cut.

The report in the Chicago papers that the mayor of this town (who is himself had shot Alderman Skinner dead during a session of the common council) is the veriest nonsense. The alderman contended that a motion to adjourn was always in order, and we had to throw him over his desk to satisfy him that there were exceptional instances.

We understand that Mr. John Shine has returned to Giveadam Gulch after a three months' residence in New Mexico. It is said that he didn't exactly admire the way in which a vigilance committee danced him around at the end of a rope. John was always rather particular on the subject of his neck.

A. HARRIS

Writes of Conditions in Missouri—He Confidently Looks for Election of Colonel Kilbourne.

Kirkersville, O., Nov. 1.—A Kirkersville man has just received the following letter from Mr. A. Harris written at Hughesville, Mo. Mr. Harris is well known in Licking county.

"I have been in Missouri something like three weeks. I find the country unusually dry and weather still warm. Have had some frost but as yet is sufficient to bring about cool weather. The people throughout the entire state have this year passed through the longest drouth since 'the forties.' Water for stock is quite a item. Farmers in this state are almost entirely dependent upon their ponds and creeks for their supply of water. Excessive heat and continued drouth has since run them dry, and what few wells are in working order proved unequal to stock demand. The potato crop is short, the corn crop light, and oats were not harvested. Wheat crop generally good. The few fall showers have made considerable forage and with strict economy, the supply of hay, fodder, etc., will feed the stock until spring. Considerable wheat is being sown this fall. Little fall plowing is being done owing to the drouth. The people in general are hopeful, and in their crops next year hope to regain what they have lost this year.

Missouri schools are well attended. Attendance at State University shows considerable increase over that of last year. The World's Fair is the principal topic of the day. Great preparation is being made there by the city of St. Louis as well as the state.

I have enjoyed good health since my arrival here and in all expect to spend a very enjoyable and pleasant winter. I am also expecting Ohio to elect a Democratic Governor. Wishing you all much happiness and success, I am as ever, your friend

JOHN A. HARRIS.
